"The Power of Decision," the five-part photodrama starring Frances Nelson, which will be seen at the Colonial Theater to-morrow and Tuesday, is a play of great mental and moral stimulus.

The central idea of the play is that "Every mortal has within himself the power of decision." Margot, the artist's model, who marries a famous author, is called upon to exercise this power amid circumstances which would puzzle a wiser head than that of this

A Big V comedy and Ditmar's educational animal studies will also be shown. On Wednesday the Colonial again will show "The Nick of Time Baby," in which one of the most intelligent canine performers ever ap-pearing on the screen is shown.
